

COMPANY NAME

arabianEye

OVERVIEW

arabianEye is a unique creative resource providing Middle Eastern stock photography and footage for advertising, marketing and media professionals. Together with our partners Corbis, Reuters and Magnum, arabianEye helps the creative and editorial communities produce distinctive work.

arabianEye represents Corbis in the MENA region. Corbis has exceptional creative, documentary, archival, fine art, current events, and entertainment images to help the creative community produce distinctive work for web sites, magazines, newspapers, books, television, and films. Corbis Motion brings you instant access to archival and contemporary content, as well as breathtaking HD footage.

Creative Images: arabianEye produces and shoots exclusive material for its archive and clients. Carefully researched content with genuine regional knowledge is regularly uploaded to the site. arabianEye balances global visual trends with regional cultural sensitivities.

Editorial Images: arabianEye's team of photographers based around the MENA region document the most important social, cultural and environmental issues.

Motion Content: arabianEye has expanded to house a growing collection of rare regional video clips.
